NASCAR HISTORIAN AT HALIFAX HISTORY MUSEUM

Wednesday, February 18

Buz McKim, a born raconteur and the historian of the NASCAR Hall of Fame is the special speaker at the Halifax Historical Museum on Wednesday, February 18. He will share his lifetime experiences in the auto racing industry. Doors open at 5 p.m. with the program starting at 5:30 p.m.

A foremost authority on auto racing history, Buz McKim came by his passion for auto racing naturally. His father owned cars which competed in the NASCAR Sportsman and NASCAR Modified Divisions on northeastern race tracks in the early 1950s. While still in high school he attempted a driving career, but, as a natural-born artist, found it was more profitable to paint the numbers on the cars instead. His talents led him to a successful career as a commercial artist.

Eric Breitenback, photographer and filmmaker is scheduled to be on hand to host the evening. Breitenback is producer and director of the acclaimed documentary Hoppin Rattlesnakes, which will be shown at the conclusion of McKim's talk.
